NOBLE'S FRIENDS INDIGNANT.

Say Col. Fleming is Trying to Embarrass His Successor.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Jan. 4.—Many of the Queens County lawyers and friends of District-Attorney Daniel Noble were worked up to a high pitch of indignation this morning when ex-District-Attorney John Fleming, followed by a Pinkerton detective, again visited the Queens County Jail House, where the Grand Jury is in session.

They wanted Justice Gaynor to advise them as to the propriety of beginning a litigation into the alleged pool-room of Col. Fleming, told the Court were in full operation in Hart's Hotel at Austrel Hill, just across the Long Island City line.

The friends of Mr. Noble says that Col. Fleming's interest in the matter is based upon a desire to embarrass the present District-Attorney. This Col. Fleming denies.

An Evening World reporter visited Hart's Hotel this morning and found that over the house by Proprietor Hart. There was no pool-selling going on, and there was no sign of any pool-selling recently been carried on in the vicinity, and there was an utter absence of any pool-selling in the vicinity.

It is understood that Col. Fleming's interest in the matter is based upon a desire to embarrass the present District-Attorney. This Col. Fleming denies.

Proprietor Hart says he is at a loss to know who comes to his place with pool-selling or any other violation of the law. The Grand Jury will investigate the matter tomorrow.

AUSTIN'S OLD SUIT.

The Missing Man's Clothes Cannot Now Be Produced.

He Wore Out the Coat Found in the Bath-House.

The case of Austin against the Mutual Reserve Fund Association bids fair to go down in judicial history as a cause célèbre, along with the case of executor Robert Ray Hamilton, whose death in the forests of Wyoming was denied.

The relatives of John C. Austin claim $100,000 on two policies which a half brother carried for more than six and a half years when, on July 4, 1891, he was drowned at Manhattan Beach while bathing.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Association refuses to pay the claim, and promises to prove that Austin was in a bad way financially, and simply told away his clothes in a bathhouse.
